OTHER HOUSE MEASURES

Two Bills to Appropriate Money for Mr. Lemke Are Indefinitely Postponed

Whether to let persons smoke in dining rooms of hotels, in cafes and in dining cars where women are present was the big question before the house of representatives later yesterday afternoon.

The majority opined that house bill No. 51, designed to permit smoking in these places was all right, and the bill was advanced to third reading. Representative Ness wanted to include "haymows and barns" but the house demurred.

Through clouds of smoke fiery oratory was hurled from one side of the hall to the other, and politics was forgotten by most members. The majority of the committee had reported the bill for passage; the minority for indefinite postponement.

Bauer, of Sioux county, Independent, vehemently defended the bill, declaring he couldn't see why women should be required to submit to men smoking in dining rooms.

"Are you a smoker?" questioned Mr. Shipley.

"No, but I was."

Another wanted to know if Mr. Bauer opposed smoking.

"No, I don't care how much they smoke. They can go to h— and smoke there if they want to."

Speaker Twichell, on the floor, retorted with a suggestion for a bill regulating language on the floor.

Smokes in Self-Defense
Representative Reichert was another who was strong for the bill.

"Gentlemen," he said, "I've been smoking, not because I want to, but to keep from getting sick, because these men around me are smoking. And you can't be around where men are smoking without smoking your self."

Representative Ness, of Richland, was insistent that his motion to amend the bill to include "haymows and barns," because, he said, under present laws if he hired help on your farm want to smoke you can't help yourself.

Threw 'Em Out
"I found two men smoking in my haymow last summer," he said, "and I asked them to stop and they said they didn't have to. I had to take one by the neck and throw him out."

Some others thought the Ness amendment was well taken but the majority didn't think so.

Shipley, of Stark, suggested an amendment making it illegal for any man to use tobacco in any form east of the Missouri river. It was ruled out of order.

Lemke Bills Defeated
The house refused finally to pass any bill giving William Lemke, Attorney-General, the appropriation asked for. His disapproval of the efforts taken by Lemke's supporters was expressed in the vote, 57 to 56, to indefinitely postpone Senate Bill No. 2 and House Bill No. 6.

The house yesterday passed a bill transferring $9,051 from the Governor's fund to the Attorney-General's fund and revoking the dual system of conducting legal affairs in the state which allows the Governor to name special assistant attorneys-general. Lemke men said the fund transferred was already exhausted.

There was little debate on the subject, Representative Walter Maddock, Nonpartisan, in explaining his vote declared that it would leave the Attorney-General without funds to defend the railroad rate and other cases.

Anti-Injunction Bill
Two bills of importance went to the judiciary committee, one of them, amending the anti-injunction law, being introduced by that committee. The other was the bill to permit the sale of cigarettes under license from the Attorney-General's office.

The amendments to the anti-injunction law simply insert the word peaceably in three or three places in referring to assembly of laborers in industrial dispute, making the law conform in all respects to the federal law on the same subject, according to Chairman Starke, of the Judiciary committee.

The anti-cigarette bill, in the opinion of many stands a good show of passage. It provides strict safeguards. Any dealer who would sell cigarettes must be licensed by the Attorney-General's office, paying a license fee of $50 per year. The first $20,000 collected would be given to the Attorney-General's office for the purpose of enforcement, the remainder to be given to the city or village or township board, prohibits minors from smoking cigarettes and makes it a misdemeanor for them to do so, and provides a fine of from $100 to $500 for any dealer violating the law.

TAKES FARGO POSITION.
Fargo, Feb. 5.—C. J. Ranney, former editor of the Killdeer Tribune which suspended publication several weeks ago, has taken a position as deputy revenue collector for the North Dakota internal revenue office. It is expected that Mr. Ranney will make his headquarters at Valley City.

Albert E. Sheets, Jr.

"When a man who was in five major operations on various fronts is turned out of the hospitals through technicalities, it is time something was done," said Albert E. Sheets, Jr., former assistant attorney general. "That is why I am going to urge the amendment of the bureau of war risk insurance, the vocational training and compensation bureau, all under one workable head."

Attorney Sheets left Bismarck last night for Washington, D. C., where he will represent the American Legion of North Dakota at the session of the department national executive committee which has been called for February 7, 8, 9. He is taking the place of C. J. Dawson, former state commander, who is unable to attend the meeting, he being chief clerk of the house of representatives. Sheets will present before the national session the case of James L. Monahan, just one of the many wounded soldiers whom he asserts have suffered through the cumbersome working of the three distinct national bureaus having to do with veterans of the recent war.

Owner Much Worried Over Unusual Bird Animal, Says Report

Natchez, Miss., Feb. 5.—A hunting hog owned by Tucker Gibson, a widely known hunterman, has suffered a nervous breakdown, according to his owner.

Makes Record.
The hog pointer has made excellent records and his owner brought him here to train him for the field contest at Springfield.

Mr. Gibson was intending to place the hog in vanderbilt following the field trials and he had purchased the birds to be used in the act.

Points for Hours.
He then left for three days and during his absence the hog located the birds. On his return he found the hog still pointing at the birds, which he had been doing for three days and nights. The intense mental strain, together with the fact that he had not eaten for this time brought on the attack, his owner declares.

$200,000 APPROPRIATION
FOR IMMIGRATION WORK

What is considered as the possible end of the immigration department headed by J. H. Worst and which has been the center of bitter attack by the Independents was reflected in the House vote today, by a majority of seven, to kill the appropriation of $200,000 for the department.

The minority made an unsuccessful attempt to squeeze through a compromise bill appropriating $100,000 for the biennial period. The vote to kill the appropriation stood 59 to 52. It is believed that there is little or no chance of getting the appropriation through at this session.

Senate Votes to Put Communication in Journal

CAUSES LIVELY DEBATE

Senator Church Suggests Less Heat Might Be Just as Well

After an extended and rather heated debate, the senate yesterday afternoon by a vote of 27 to 22 voted to print the journal of the senate, Senator Liederbach's resolution criticizing Chairman Watt and the house appropriation committee for recommending to pass the bill which transferred the funds at the disposal of the governor for special attorneys over to Mr. Lemke, in lieu of any direct appropriation.

Some of the league senators held that the fund had already been expended but that the warrants had not yet been drawn on it.

Holds N. P.'s Responsible
Senator Mees of Morton, said that if anyone was responsible for the condition of the finances in the attorney general's office it was the nonpartisan majority which cut the appropriations two-thirds at the 1919 special session. "I believe," he said, "that the attorney general ought to have more money but I am opposed to all this political horse play and having a lot of funds out of which attorneys may be paid."

Sent "Kids." He Says
Senator Liederbach replied that the appropriation was cut in 1919 because they didn't believe that they had an efficient attorney general. Instead of acting himself he would send kids around to handle important cases, and it was those kids who were responsible for that more than million dollars which has just been turned over to the state treasury by the railroads.

Urges Calmness
Senator Church said that he thought the senators were getting too much worked up over the matter and moved the previous question, which carried and the vote was taken.

Senator Bond of Ward, introduced a bill that gives the county commissioners power to designate depositories for county funds and provides safeguards therefor.

Fixes Safeguards
The emergency is attached to the bill. At present there is no law giving this power to anyone, the confusion being due to the passage of an act at the November election which relieved the counties from the obligation to deposit in the state bank but gave them no power to create other depositories.

The county under the bill must advertise and the banks must give surety bonds to protect the funds. The county treasurer cannot deposit more in any one bank than its capital and surplus. The interest rate is fixed at not more than four or less than two per cent. Two per cent is being paid now on checking balances by the state bank.

First Defeat to Eastern Team on Own Floor in Four Years

Jamestown, N. D., Feb. 5.—The Bismarck high school basketball quintet scored another smashing victory last night when it defeated Jamestown by a score of 17 to 7, immediately following its defeat of Valley City the night before by a score of 20 to 14.

Game Fast.
Last night's game was exceedingly fast, clean game of short shots. The Jamestown team was outplayed from the start.

In the first half Bismarck made four field baskets to none for Jamestown. In the second half the Capital City players made four more field baskets and one free throw. Jamestown made two field baskets and two free throws.

Beats Valley.
The victory over Valley City Thursday night was the first time that that city's team has been humbled on its own floor for four years. Bismarck's work in that game was rapid and clean.

These victories have placed the Bismarck high in the front rank for the state honor. The boys have lost only two games, one to Mandan and one to Valley City, the latter on Bismarck's floor.

Mandan Next.
The game next Friday night at Mandan has assumed new significance in the championship race because of these Bismarck victories.

Senator Introduces Bill to Allow Designation of Banks by Commissioners

A bill introduced in the upper house yesterday afternoon by Senator Walter Bond of Minot would authorize county commissioners to designate county depositories. The bill provides that one or more national, or state banks, or trust companies, may be named in which all the funds of a county may be deposited.

Banks would submit bids as to what interest percentage might be paid, and such funds would be at all times subject to draft. If more than one bank submit an offer of the same rate of interest, such banks shall impartially be given a share of the county money.

The bill also calls for a penalty for violation of the law to be imposed upon any county treasurer, and a monthly statement by the depository bank is called for. The county treasurer is made custodian of the funds and all checks issued against deposits would be signed by him as treasurer. The measure was referred to the committee on banks and banking.

Senator L. R. Baird introduced Bill No. 116 giving the court power to appoint district juvenile commissioners, guardians and to make rules pre-empting the duties of such officers and fixing their compensation.

Senator Ingerson of Burke county, introduced Bill No. 115, regulating the exchange of reciprocal or insurance contracts among individuals, partnerships and corporations.

Details of the robbery were related here by Thornfield. He said he was waiting at the railroad station at St. Charles to put the pouch on a train for St. Louis when the men came by in an auto and after forcing him to lie down in the bottom of the car took the pouch and kept him prisoner until they reached St. Louis, releasing him in the outskirts.

STATE BONDS OFFERED BY BROKER;
NO AUTHORITY, ASSERTS CATHRO

Bonds of the Bank of North Dakota, bank series, are being offered by a Chicago bond house at 96 1/2 and 95 1/2.

The bond house is R. E. Giffle Company, formerly engaged in a bank in Castleton that became defunct.

W. W. Cathro, director-general of the Bank of North Dakota, declares the bond house has no authority from the bank to offer the bonds.

One of the members of the firm is understood to have been in Bismarck a month ago, the clerk purporting to offer about $1,500,000 of bonds of the bank series of the Bank of North Dakota and purporting to be issued by this firm was received in Bismarck.

Cathro asserted that the Bank of North Dakota had named no agent to enter into the disposal of these securities and had made only an announcement in a bond note magazine and had answered inquiries.

Cathro Says New Withdrawals Will Be Made From Banks in State

The investigation of the house of representatives committee into the conduct of the state industries was halted today until Monday.

The adjournment of the committee was taken shortly after the committee was called to order in the courthouse this morning, without objection from counsel.

Attorney-General Lemke suggested that the committee take the adjournment, after a conference between a representative of Mr. Lemke and attorneys for the committee had been held.

The senate committee was to begin its hearing late this afternoon in the state bank. The senate agreed to meet at 1 p. m. daily and adjourn at 4 p. m. for the purpose of conducting its inquiry.

The status of the inquiry remained the same as it was when adjournment was taken yesterday, after F. W. Cathro, director-general of the Bank of North Dakota, had declined to go into details of the deposits of the Scandinavian-American bank, saying that this would open up the whole question of publicity on relations between banks of the state and the Bank of North Dakota which might result disastrously.

Mr. Cathro was present with a number of records, but the answer of the Industrial Commission on the question of producing the records will not be given until Monday, it is understood.

Complete Friday Transcript.
Following is a complete transcript of the testimony given Friday by F. W. Cathro, manager of the Bank of North Dakota, regarding the redeposit of funds in the banks of the state.

Q. By Mr. Murphy: Now, calling your attention to the question of redeposit of funds, there is an item of redeposit of public funds of $4,040,899.19. See if I am reading this correctly. A. Yes.

Q. Now just what does that mean—redeposit of public funds? A. This was money that was carried in local banks throughout the state of North Dakota in the name of the Bank of North Dakota.

Q. Let me see if I understand this correctly. These public funds of course, constitute the bulk of the deposits in the Bank of North Dakota, do they not? A. Yes.

Q. The Bank of North Dakota then redeposits a portion of these funds, in different banks throughout the state of North Dakota in its name that is the Bank of North Dakota, becomes a depositor in various banks throughout the state? A. When the Bank of North Dakota was organized a large proportion of these funds were in these banks, and the Bank of North Dakota adopted a policy of redepositing in these same banks. In other words a check by a local treasurer was sent to the Bank of North Dakota, and that identical check was returned to those banks for deposit in place of being retained by the Bank of North Dakota. These banks at that time were unable to pay the money to the Bank of North Dakota. They had it at that time, but they couldn't let go of it. They couldn't meet their obligations, and pay it to the bank. Consequently in order not to embarrass these banks it has been there ever since in a good many cases, and we have been unable to get it out.

Percent Paid.
Q. As far as the books are concerned the public funds actually belong in the Bank of North Dakota, but they are trying to have it redeposited in the fashion you have indicated? A. Yes.

Q. Now of course upon these funds you pay two percent to the counties or cities or public institutions do you not? A. We do.

Q. And you charge the redepositary bank four percent? A. Yes.

Q. Now as I understand you, you say that was your policy throughout the time the bank was taken out of the bank, and deposited with you? A. No, not the exact amount.

Q. Well, a similar amount? Our position always was in the main—now we never assumed that we could sustain an exact balance—but in the main we would try to retain redeposits in local banks, about in proportion to the amount that came from these localities.

Q. So that the distribution would be substantially the same as it was before the organization of the Bank of North Dakota? A. Yes.

Q. You think that is a correct statement? A. Approximately so, that is the general plan we tried to follow.

Q. Is that true as to counties or districts or localities or has there been some change in the distribution of public funds since the organization of the bank, and the adoption of this method of redepositing, substantial in amount? A. Well, portions of the state that were not in urgent need of money—from those portions we withdrew some of their funds and put

More Than Three Billion Checked Up When Burke Retires From Job

FROM PENNIES TO BILLS

Handle Lowly Copper and the $10,000 Greenbacks—Melt Dollars

Washington, Feb. 4.—A complete count of the government's cash has just been made for the first time in 12 years. The total approximated $3,500,000,000 and included all cash and securities held as reserves against currency outstanding.

The count was made by a special committee of three, assisted by eight accountants and by 15 laborers who were used to move around the heavy sacks of gold and silver. The men delved into great vaults in the treasury building and took stock of gold, silver and paper money and securities, many of which had not seen the light of day since shortly after William Howard Taft was inaugurated president and a new treasurer of the United States appointed in 1909.

The accountants in entering the vaults passed grim-visaged guards who day and night "sit on the lid" to prevent any possible attempts at an unauthorized raid on the treasury. The vaults themselves are supposed to be burglar proof and are of massive concrete and steel construction. The storage sections are kept under seal and this was the first time that some of them had been opened in 12 years for when John Burke became treasurer after President Wilson was first inaugurated he accepted the count of cash in the storage sections which had not been opened since the previous count in 1909.

The accountants handled money of every possible denomination from the lowly copper to $10,000 bills. Many of the bills, particularly those of the large denominations, such as $1,000, were in sheets of four each and held as reserve against currency of smaller denominations in circulation. Thousand dollar bills in circulation are few and each bank in the country is kept supplied by the treasury with a list of them with their numbers so that if perchance any are extracted from the treasury illegally the holder will have extreme difficulty in realizing on them.

Burke's Retirement

The count just finished was made necessary by the retirement of John Burke as treasurer and was completed in the remarkably short time of three weeks through the use of electric counting machines. Loose coins passed through these machines instead of being counted by hand as was necessary in the olden days. Paper currency was counted by the piece, but stored coins and currency were counted by the sack or package in cases where the wrappings were unbroken and the seal of each intact.

The main supply of the government's money is stored in two large vaults, but there are a number of smaller ones in the various divisions of the department as well as in the cash room where cash payments are made by the government.

Gold coins stored in the vaults are counted by weight. The gold is kept in sacks, sealed with the treasurer's wax seal and containing $5,000 each, weighing about 18 pounds and seven ounces. First one sack was weighed and then the others were examined. If both the seal and covering were found intact they were weighed against the first or test sack and if the result was the same were passed and counted. However, if a seal was broken or the sack torn or there was appreciable difference in weight the contents were counted by the piece.

Melt Dollars

Standard silver dollars were counted in the same way as the gold coins. They are stored in sacks containing 1,000 and weighing about 60 pounds. Work on the silver coin was lessened officials said by the government's melting 100,000,000 silver dollars under the Pittman act for sale to the British government to relieve the silver famine in India during the war. Paper money is stored in paper packages making a cube of about 7 1/2 inches each way and containing 4,000 notes. On each package is stamped the amount and the denomination of the notes inclosed. A wax seal is attached. Except where a broken seal or package necessitated an actual count of the contents the paper in the vaults was counted by the package. Sealed packages of paper money are accepted from the bureau of engraving and printing as correct when the wrappings are intact because the issue division of the treasury maintains an office in the bureau and in reality counts all the paper money before it leaves the bureau.

Coins of smaller denominations—quarters, dimes, nickels and coppers—stored in sacks were counted in the same manner as the silver and gold by taking the weight of a test sack for each denomination and weighing the other sacks against it.

Upon completion of the count the storage compartments of the vaults were sealed with the seal of the special committee and a receipt was given to Mr. Burke, the retiring treasurer, by Guy F. Allen, his successor for the cash and securities of the government held in the treasury. When he signed the receipt the acting treasurer became personally responsible for the safekeeping of all the cash and securities in the building.

The new treasurer was represented on the special counting committee by F. E. Reppert, vault clerk of the cash division of the treasurer's office. C. N. McGraw, chief of the division of loans and currency was chairman of the committee, and with John Moon, chief of the coupon surrender section of that division, represented the secretary of the treasury.

HOUSE SPEEDS UP AS SPEAKER
URGES ACTION

First Bill to Pass Both Houses in Legislature is Senate Bill 12

SCHOOL BILL FIGHT

The house, under pressure from Speaker Twitchell, speeded up yesterday afternoon.

The first bill to pass both houses was senate bill No. 12, amending the concentrated feed law. The house also passed three other senate bills.

Three bills were killed on committee reports, six house bills and one concurrent resolution. The afternoon session did not end until after 6 o'clock.

The speaker urged the house to limit debate on house bill No. 64, after it had been debated several hours on committee reports, and on a third reading on two separate dates, and acting on the house suggestion members limited the time used for discussion somewhat.

Chief debate of the afternoon was on house bill No. 66, providing for payment of tuition by school districts having no high schools for pupils who attend high school in another district, making the maximum amount of tuition $54 a year.

School Bill Passes

Representative Del Patterson, Nonpartisan, and several other speakers attacked the bill on the ground that it would place an unwarranted burden on the rural school districts. Speakers for the bill urged the condition of high schools and the argument for their maintenance as a justification for the payment of tuition by the districts which they said was not sufficient to cover the actual cost. The vote was 65 to 44.

House bill No. 91, taking away from the governor the power to appoint special assistant attorney-general, a power granted during the time Attorney-General Langer was in office and the majority of the legislature was Nonpartisan by a vote of 68 to 63. The bill carried an appropriation transferring $9,051 from the governor's fund to the attorney-general's office. Nonpartisans attacked this latter provision on the ground that the governor had informed the house that the money remaining in the fund was needed to pay for attorney hire already contracted.

Debate Labor Bill

There was some debate on house bill No. 14, which was introduced at the behest of labor men, prohibiting an employer from interfering with membership in any labor union, requiring him to leave the union as a means of retaining or gaining employment and prohibiting the "blacklist" discharging a man because of political beliefs or opposing him. The majority of the state affairs committee had stricken from the bill the section relating to membership in the union and the "blacklist" but this was restored by the house on a vote of 80 to 39, and the house, sitting as a committee of the whole, recommended the bill for passage.

Representative Olsen's resolution petitioning congress to investigate the petrified forest in Billings county, looking toward the establishment of a national park, was adopted. Representative Lake introduced a resolution calling for the display of the American flag on public buildings and in the home on Mothers' day, the second Sunday in May.

Other action on bills will be found in the daily calendar on the editorial page of this issue.

REBELLION IN STOMACH

"Pape's Diapiesin" at once ends indigestion and Sour, Acid Stomach

Lumps of undigested food cause pain. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sick gases and upset, and what you just ate was fermented and turned sour; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested foods—just take a tablet or two of Pape's Diapiesin to help neutralize acidity and in five minutes you wonder what became of the pain, acidity, indigestion and distress.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal flit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless stomach antacid is Pape's Diapiesin, which costs so little at drug stores.

Tonnage Shortage
In Germany Due to Labor Disturbances

Hamburg, Germany, Feb. 4.—Despite lack of tonnage, shortage of coal, labor troubles and a depreciated currency, German shipping interests have begun an intensive campaign to revive pre-war sea trade. Millions of marks have already gone into important ship building contracts.

Hugo Stinnes, reputed to be the wealthiest man in the new republic, and a heavy shareholder in a number of shipping companies, is reported to be attempting to extend his influence, which is now the controlling factor in the German East Africa line and the Woermann line, and an important factor in the affairs of the Hamburg-American line.

Regular steamship services with America, South America, East Africa, Mexico, Cuba, Spain, Portugal, Australia and Mediterranean and Scandinavian ports, have been re-established, and the North sea, Baltic and Rhine traffic has assumed a new and lively aspect. Handicapped by shortage of ships the Germans have turned their attention to conversion of warships to commercial usages, to construction of motor ships out of sailing vessels, and to the study of oil-fuel as a substitute for the more expensive coal fuel.

Survival of German commerce is indicated by the increased number of ships calling at the more important ports. During the first 11 months of 1920, 4,369 vessels of a tonnage of 3,892,240 arrived at Hamburg, as compared with 1,854 vessels and 1,303,829 tons in 1919, and 13,375 vessels of 13,006,426 tons in the first eleven months of 1918.

The majority of these vessels, however, are sailing under foreign flags.

Gilbert Expected To Deliver Himself
To Sheriff Saturday

Red Wing, Minn., Feb. 4.—Joseph Gilbert, former Nonpartisan league organizer, is expected to surrender to the sheriff here Saturday to begin serving a sentence of one year and a day in the county jail for violation of the Minnesota sedition act.

The United States supreme court mandate affirming his conviction was filed in the district court here January 28. In addition to the prison sentence Gilbert must pay a fine of $500. The sentence was fixed upon his conviction in Goodhue county district court in May, 1919.

Gilbert, who is out on bail, was indicted with two other Nonpartisan league organizers by the Goodhue county grand jury in March, 1918, on the charge of seditious utterances tending to discourage enlistments in the United States forces in the world war. He was tried early in May and found guilty. An appeal was taken to the state supreme court, where judgment of the district court was affirmed in December, 1918, but a stay was granted pending appeal to the United States supreme court, which was perfected early in 1919.

TO RECOVER POSITION

London, Feb. 4.—Sir Alfred Booth, chairman of the Cunard Shipping company, is of the opinion that up to a certain point Germany is bound to recover her shipping position.

"While it is true," he stated in an interview here, "that Germany has to start again practically from the beginning, it is also true that the beginning has already been made."

"The newly issued German Shipping Annual tells the world that nine German steamship lines are again at work plying to the two Americas and to Mexico, to India and the Dutch Indies, to Scandinavia, Cuba and the Mediterranean, the Baltic, even to Antwerp and to England."

"The rumor that a further 200,000 tons of shipping is soon to go to Germany may be but a rumor," added Sir Arthur.

"Certainly it is partly by blending chartered foreign steamers with the handful that was left to them under the provisions of the Versailles treaty, partly by an alliance between Germans with experience and no ships and Americans with ships and no experience, Germany is preparing to return to her old place in the shipping world."

Sir Arthur Booth said that the chances of Germany's success depended on whether those who held the field now made the most of their opportunities.

What Caused It?

Are the tubes of the radiator partially or wholly clogged so the circulation is restricted to such an extent that freezing is a natural result when driving in cold weather? Our experience during the past five years has convinced us that no repair job is practical unless the radiator is thoroughly cleaned before it is repaired. The cause of the trouble must first be removed.

With this thought in mind, we have installed acid vats large enough to completely cover any radiator with the cleansing solution. This operation will dissolve any alkali or lime deposits as well as any of the various anti-leak preparations now being used for emergency. To complete the cleaning process we have also installed a powerful rotary pump the suction hose of which is attached to one of the outlets of the radiator, and a stream of strong hot lye solution is drawn through it at the rate of about 200 gallons a minute. This will remove all foreign matter and the radiator is in perfect condition for repairs.

Our workshop is equipped with every convenience known to the trade and we employ none but experienced mechanics. Before the work is delivered, it is repainted so it will not show the effects of the cleansing process. We carry a large stock of "Frost-proof" honeycomb cores, on which we will be glad to quote prices if your radiator should be damaged beyond a practical repair job.

STATE'S POLICY ON RECORDS NOT ANNOUNCED

those figures from the Industrial Commission.

Q I would suggest to you that my question is directed to you Mr. Call, and personally I haven't any interest in Mr. Lemke's views. A. He is a member of the Industrial Commission and I have to get the consent from the Industrial Commission under that resolution adopt the other day.

Q Do you want to confer with the Industrial Commission before you care to answer that? Of course you won't work this afternoon and if you would prefer to have time this afternoon to confer with the Industrial Commission, we are perfectly willing. A I think I might get permission right now, possibly.

Q Is this gentleman the Industrial Commission, or just a member? A He speaks for them doubtless.

Q Well if he will say yes or no we will have him. A I have never yet in the history of my life had an attorney put a gag on me and he will not today.

Mr. Murphy The witness is asked this question as a representative of the Industrial Commission as to whether or not he has authority to do that, or not. And it may be answered yes or no, and I object to the gentleman making speeches into this record as to what has occurred in the past and will occur in the future.

Mr. Johnson of Steele I understand this committee was appointed here to investigate the audit of Bishop, Brissman & Co.

Chairman Just a minute, there is a question before the witness and before the committee enters into an argument of this we would like that disposed of.

Mr. Murphy I would like to proceed in an orderly manner and the committee can meet afterwards and dispose of its policy as it sees fit, but it appears that the gentleman doesn't care to give you his answer right now and I don't want to put him in an embarrassing position by reason of the fact that the commission has given such orders and I would suggest that he consult the commission this afternoon and let us know tomorrow morning at 9:10 whether he will do so or not.

Mr. Call That will be all right. Distance to Bank.

Q Now answer this one other question and that is how far is it from the courthouse to the Bank in North Dakota?

Johnson of Steele Mr. Murphy I have a motion that I want to make here is a member of this committee and I feel that I have a right to make the motion now.

Chairman There is unfinished business before the committee. There is one question that has not been answered and as soon as that is answered we will be concluded.

Johnson of Steele The question of making a motion and the question of whether these gentlemen who are our hired servants, as attorneys whether their wishes should be sustained or whether mine as they matter of making the motion, I ask the chair to rule on.

Mr. Murphy I will say there will be no conflict between you and me on that point. All I ask is that you let me ask this little simple question as to how far it is from the courthouse to the bank.

Johnson You have asked it several times.

Mr. Murphy That is so, but it is just a question of distance from here over to the Bank of North Dakota, and if you can tell us Mr. Call, we will be very glad. How many blocks is it?

Answer Four or five blocks.

Mr. Johnson's motion to amend the rules was voted down.

The visit of A. C. Townley to the city has given rise to rumors of a new attitude of the Industrial Commission toward the investigation and toward production of records. No step has been taken toward court action in connection with the matter, but the Industrial Commission's attitude apparently has changed in the last few days.

F. W. Cathro this morning declared that it banks close. The Bank of North Dakota will be the last in the state to close.

He said that the $1,000,000 loan made with a Chicago bond house would be paid March 15, that the bank would not ask an extension.

He also declared the Bank of North Dakota "will get money some way" and that further withdrawals of deposits will be made from banks in the state in the near future.

Begin Right Now to Conquer Your Rheumatism

If you are going to again rely upon the lumbago bottle to try to rub your rheumatism away, you will be doomed again to nothing but disappointment. A disease that can cause so much pain and suffering is not on the surface of the skin, and cannot be rubbed away.

Many forms of Rheumatism are caused by a tiny disease germ in the blood, and in such cases the only logical treatment is to search out and remove these germs from the blood.

For this purpose there is no more satisfactory remedy than S.S.S., the fine old blood remedy that has been in use for more than fifty years, and has given such general satisfaction for Rheumatism.

Begin taking S.S.S. today, and if you will write a complete history of your case, our medical director will give you expert advice, without charge. Address Chief Medical Director, 100 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

To Cure Russia by "Absent Treatment"

The Washington Herald declares that "until the Allied Powers have at least a semblance of an agreed Russian policy, chaos is certain to continue." President Wilson proposes a policy of hands off, and this may help to clear the air. Both Bolshevik and anti-Bolshevik spokesmen in this country, it is interesting to note, and something to praise in the President's proposal, but correspondents report that it is received coldly by the French press, and with a mingling of praise and criticism by the English papers. "Does Mr. Wilson think America can join the League for five or ten minutes whenever it wishes something, and then get out before it is called on to assume responsibilities?" asks the Paris Journal des Debats; and the London Westminster Gazette conceding that the President's proposal "contains much sound sense," goes on to say: "But when he asks the Allies jointly to guarantee the territorial integrity of Russia, we are compelled to remark that America refuses to share not only in that guaranty but in a guaranty of the integrity of other European states which are members of the League."

STATE'S POLICY ON RECORDS NOT ANNOUNCED

them into sections of the state where there was more urgent need.

Asks Him to Specify.

Q. Would you specify a little bit there, and give the portions of the state from which you withdrew a portion of the funds, and the portions of the state which in your judgment were more in need of the money? Give us some idea of how you altered the distribution of balances there if you can at this time. A. Well, I suppose the same principle is adopted by any bank to discover the needs of the locality, and when the needs are presented to take care of them.

Q. I am not inquiring as to the principle, I am inquiring as to the application of it. What, particular place did you apply the principle to? A. We drew some money from the eastern part of the state and sent it to the western portion for redeposit.

Q. Now would you say as a matter of fact that in any given locality of the state, if it isn't a fact that your bank had absorbed this public money from the banks of that locality, given locality and then redeposited a great proportion of it in one bank and very little in the others? A. No, there was no attempt at favoritism.

Q. Have you now in mind the situation in the city of Fargo, the proportionate deposits of one bank as against the aggregate deposits of all the rest of them. Have you ever had occasion to investigate that? A. Yes.

Q. What would you say about that? This is just by way of illustration—just exactly what I said a few minutes ago—to repeat it—that we found a great deal of money—we found money in the banks in some banks, a great deal of money that under our general plan of agreeing to leave the money where we found it as largely as possible, that that money was redeposited where the treasurers checks came in on us, redeposited in the same banks, and in some cases there was a considerable balance, something we are not responsible for. We never placed the money there as far as the deposits were concerned. We found it there and left it there. Now that existed in some parts of the state.

Q. Now just to carry my illustration a little bit further so that we can make ourselves clear, do you know at this time on Dec. 3, the amount of money that was redeposited in the Scandinavian-American bank at Fargo, just by way of illustration of your point could you tell us?

Won't Be Willing to Party.

A. I don't want to be a party willingly to divulging the relations of banks, the condition of banks. If this committee feels disposed to go into that subject and stir up the matter of the banks over the state at the present time in this critical condition existing at the present time, you may cause the suspension or breaking of a whole lot of banks in North Dakota. Now it is a delicate subject to approach and I don't want willingly to offer any information in regard to any institution if thereby we are going to embarrass the financial situation in the state.

Q. Of course the committee, I take it does not wish to injure anybody's bank or any banks at all, and you must realize that there is not anything that the committee can do in that respect. Now with reference to that particular bank I am inquiring about now, because the matter has already been made a matter of publicity and spread through the press?

A. I have nothing to conceal as to the particular bank, but if you start on this one it throws the bar down to open up the proposition to the whole state and you are going to run into a whole lot of trouble and danger.

Q. Well, possibly there are not many others that are in similar condition to this one.

Mr. Chairman: May I suggest that at the present time if you desire to examine the witness and the witness so desires we might go into executive session.

Murphy: Well if you don't wish the matter to be made public, I think the committee will accord you that privilege of testifying in executive session.

Cathro: I have nothing to cover up. What I am interested in is the financial situation in the state of North Dakota.

Chairman: The point is well taken.

HARDING ON PALM BEACH LINKS

en and if you went into executive session would you feel disposed to answer these questions?

Cathro: I don't want to say anything that would cause things to be stirred up or cause ruin to the bank.

Mr. Lemke: May I suggest that the committee look at the record and in that way form their own conclusions.

Wants It Under Oath.

Mr. Murphy: I suggest that it is very essential that the testimony in this case be brought here and put into this record under oath.

Lemke: I would suggest that you take it from the records.

Murphy: We are referred to the records constantly now and the other day when we were asking for them we were told we couldn't have them.

Lemke: You were notified at all times that you could look at the records and we have shown you every courtesy and it has been met with nothing but insults.

Mr. Sullivan: What are you talking about. Is that possible?

Granger: Well, would you prefer executive session while this matter was under discussion?

Cathro: I have already requested the press of all factions to lay off on these bank troubles, and in order to be consistent I cannot willingly offer information here that would be spread over the state in these critical times. I want to see the policy adopted that will serve to allay any suspicion of any weakness any place, and I hope this committee will permit nothing to interfere with it. As to the executive session, I am not in a position to ask it. I want my attorneys to remain with me. If that is granted an executive session will be perfectly satisfactory to me.

Murphy: You recognize under the rules we can't do that? We can't recognize any attorneys.

Lemke: It is unconstitutional.

Policy in Redeposits.

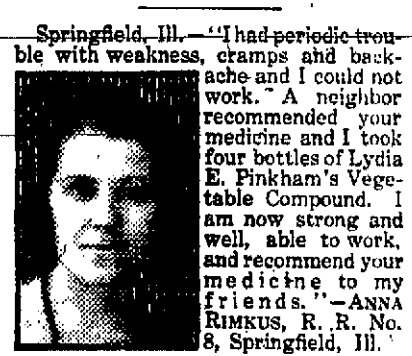

Murphy: The constitution is a very lawful document to those who think they can use it, but they don't care much about it when it gets in their road.

Murphy: You stated that the principle adopted was to redeposit in banks as nearly as you could the amount taken from them of public funds. Now I ask you if that same policy was adopted with reference to the Scandinavian-American bank at Fargo? A. It was.

Q. So you desire this committee to understand that whatever amount appears to have been on redeposit with

Why will girls continue to suffer month in and month out as Miss Rimkus did when case after case is related where Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has removed the cause of the trouble and brought good health. For more than forty years this old fashioned root and herb medicine has been the standard remedy for such ailments, and has the record of having restored more suffering women to health than any other medicine.

If there is any complication about your condition you do not understand write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts, in regard to your health.

WHY THE SCOWLS? Don't look very happy for Republicans, do they? These are Sen. William E. Borah (left) and Senator Hiram Johnson. They have been conspicuous by their absence from the Harding conferences of "great minds."

the S. A. bank as of December 3, 1920, approximately the amount that bank had carried of public funds prior thereto, do you?

Lemke: I might advise you, Mr. Cathro, you have a perfect right to insist that the records are the best evidence.

Cathro: That was the point I was going to make.

Murphy: Very well, Mr. Cathro, how long will it take for you to go over to the bank and get these records? I am informed by Mr. Johansen that is in loose leaf. Will you please go to the bank and bring as the loose leaf ledger individual deposit records of the S. A. bank, Fargo, showing all the redeposits and at the same time bring us the loose leaf deposit records of all the other banks of the city of Fargo for the purpose of comparison and illustrating the point you have just made there and we will use the records.

A. That is going to do exactly the thing I have been warning you against.

Q. What is that?

A. If those figures are read into the record you have got the very things I have been cautioning you against.

Shipley: I move that we recess a sufficient length of time to allow Mr. Cathro to produce the records as requested by counsel. Mr. Cathro, how long would it take you?

Cathro: Well I can give you substantially the figures at the present time.

Referred to Records.

Murphy: Your counsel, the gentleman who sits here as your counsel has referred us to the records, now we would prefer to have the records so that when we go into it we will not be again referred to the records. You say it is the best evidence and I agree with you.

Records Taken.

On motion of Mr. Shipley seconded by Mr. Freeman, recess was taken at 10:45.

Meeting called to order by the chairman at 11:45 a. m. all members of the committee, officials of the committee, and the witness Mr. Cathro, present.

Examination of Mr. Cathro resumed.

By Mr. Murphy: Q. Mr. Cathro just before the recess you were requested—it was at about a quarter of eleven—you were requested to produce in accordance with the suggestion of yourself and the suggestion of Mr. Lemke, as the best evidence the several letters and telegrams were entered as exhibits.

Mr. Lemke: Mr. Murphy may I suggest at this time that these letters be copied into the record?

The letters and telegrams were copied into the record.

Mr. Murphy: How far is it from here over to the bank where these records are kept? A. Now if the committee please—

Q. Now, couldn't I have an answer, please?

Mr. Chairman to Mr. Cathro: Answer the question please.

A. I have been a very willing witness. I think I have used my utmost endeavors to try to furnish you the information you desire and to do so with the least possible fiction or delay. I have tried to be and I know I have been courteous all through these proceedings. I wish the committee could realize the import of the question you are asking. The banks throughout the state are built on confidence. If you destroy that confidence, if you are going to destroy the banks, now, our efforts at all time through these several months, last past have been to sustain confidence in these banks. If you start in on one proposition, you open up the whole proposition and I believe you fail to realize the seriousness of this proposition at this time. That is about the only thing in the Bank of North Dakota that ought to be kept especially confidential. We tried to give all the information we can as it was asked for from time to time along all other lines where business is not in the same way based on confidence and confidential relations. It is not the matter of the confidential relation of the Bank of North Dakota with those banks so much as the confidential relations of their business. How long would any bank in North Dakota, for instance, that receives one-half or one-third of the attacks the Bank of North Dakota has? The Bank of North Dakota has paid out over $200,000.00 more in the last six months than it has received.

Q. Now just one moment. I am perfectly willing to extend any courtesy to you, but I suggest it is unfair for you to come in here now and cover the entire policy of the bank in explanation of the you will not produce the exhibits we have asked

For Your Blood

You are just as strong and healthy as your blood. It is likewise true that you are as young as your arteries. Vigor and health come with good blood. Without good red blood one has a weak heart and poor nerves. It may show in nervousness or in that weak, tired feeling. If your blood is thin and watery, face pale or pimply, if you are generally weak, tired and listless, a vegetable tonic should be taken. One that will do the house-keeping, an old-fashioned herbal remedy that was used by everybody 50 years ago is still safe and safe because it contains no alcohol or narcotics. It is made up of Bloodroot, Oregon Grape root, Queen's root, Stone root, Cherry Bark, without alcohol and made into a rich liquid and adapted. This blood tonic was first put out by Dr. Pierce in 1874, for a form as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It druggists do not keep this in tablet form, send 50 cents for a large trial package to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y. Write for free book on blood disorders, medical consultation free. Over two million bottles of Dr. Pierce's medicine sold last year. Try it NOW. Do not delay.

Shrine's Concert And Dance Is Event of Social Season

The Shrine's concert and dancing party of last evening was one of the big social events of the year. El Zagal Shrine of Fargo gave a musical program long to be remembered by the guests assembled. Every number was high grade and the large audience was enthusiastic in their response.

Covers were laid for sixty visiting Masons and the local committee in the great dining hall of the Temple at 6 o'clock. A decoration scheme of floral decoration was most effective. Following the concert the guests went to Patterson's hall, where a dance program was enjoyed. There was faultless music and the best spirit was evident through the evening.

Truly the world will look brighter if you are properly fitted with the tight kind of Glasses. Everything will appear rosier. There's nothing more lamentable than a man, in need of glasses, and who doesn't realize his sad plight. Come to us, have your eyes examined and we will tell you what your troubles are. If you do not need glasses we will frankly tell you so.

Bonham Brothers

Jewelers and Optometrists

Among the many out of town guests in attendance were two shriners from Portland, Ore., Messrs. Kellar and Boyd, proprietors of the Waldorf hotel at Fargo and the Lewis and Clarke at Mandan. The gathering in Bismarck was in a way, a sort of reunion of the shriners who went to the coast on the Shriner's vacation train last summer. They made headquarters during their stay in Portland at the Benson hotel, also, owned by Messrs. Kellar and Boyd, and the songs and stories of the evening were many of the first sung by the Shriner on their trip to Portland.

Two or three of the homes of Bismarck were opened to the visitors, where pleasant little suppers were served at the close of the dance. The local committee, of which John Graham was general chairman, are pleased with the success of the Shriner's affair.

FRIDAY MATINEE SUCCESS.
The matinee given at the Orpheum Friday afternoon under the auspices of the War Mothers of Bismarck was a very marked success, both as a satisfactory picture for children and as a financial success. The ladies report a very nice sum turned into their treasury. This is the first of a series to be given by the War Mothers from time to time, and a fair chest will be to secure suitable films to show the children in an effort to help along with the campaign now on to safeguard the children of Bismarck against pictures unfit for children to see, as is frequently the case when children are allowed to go to picture shows about which their parents are not informed. The parents are becoming aroused at last, and much may be done by a study of the matter of juvenile patronage of picture houses and the type of pictures shown there.

CLINIC TO BE ANNOUNCED.
A clinic for children will be put on in Bismarck on next Tuesday, with Miss Hobart of the Agricultural college in charge. The time and place for the children's clinic will be announced at the welfare meeting to be held in the Community room of the city library on Monday afternoon, when Miss Hobart will address the women of Bismarck on child welfare.

OLSON-FISHER WEDDINGS.
Hedinger, N. D., Feb. 5.—Mr. Archie Hedinger Olson and Miss Josephine Elizabeth Fisher were united in marriage Tuesday evening, February 3, by Hon. Judge Sondereg. Mr. Olson arrived here the last of the week from the coast country following a message advising Miss Fisher he intended to take her back to Bismarck to make her home. The young lady is in the employ of States Attorney Remmen, as stenographer, and has consented to remain a short time, or until Mr. Remmen can secure the services of another stenographer, when

BOY SCOUT WILLIAM W. NEWCOMB FINE MEDAL PRESENTED BY STATE FIRE MARSHALL FOR UNDERWRITERS

Last evening when Troop No. 1, Boy Scouts of Bismarck, met in their troop rooms in the basement of the Baptist church, an unusual pleasant event occurred. Some time ago the National Board of Fire Underwriters of New York offered a medal, the same to be presented to the Boy Scout writing the best essay on "Safeguarding the Home Against Fire" and in the contest Scout William W. Newcomb of Bismarck, North Dakota, won first prize. By request of the national board Fire Marshall Reade was asked to represent the board and make the presentation. Last night Scoutmaster G. W. Gustafson called the troop together and after the usual business had been transacted Mr. Gustafson called upon Mr. Reade, who addressed the troop to some length and then called upon Scout Newcomb to step forward and he placed the beautiful medal upon his breast and it being something of a surprise Scout Newcomb's comrades all agreed by their hearty scout yells that they fully appreciated the honor so justly conferred upon one so worthy. Scout Newcomb made a nice response to the calls for him to say something which showed his appreciation for the confidence placed in him. The medal is a fine piece of work made by the firm of Tiffany & Co., New York, properly engraved and suspended from a blue ribbon.

Injured Child Recovers

Bismarck, N. D., March 30, 1918

To Whom It May Concern:

About the last of August 1917, my daughter fell and injured herself on a sidewalk at Fargo. She had both Medical and Chiropractic care while there. Her name is Vera; she is six years old, and when she was taken to Dr. Engle's office October 30 she could neither speak or walk.

He adjusted her eight days, and then she commenced to walk and talk. She took thirty-five adjustments and is perfectly well and as healthy as the average child.

I authorize him to use this testimonial in any way he sees fit and trust this may be the means of starting someone on the way to health.

WHAT THE RECORDS SHOW
Whether prohibition law enforcement under the Volstead law is a success or failure, is open to discussion, and is being discussed rather freely.
And to aid in that discussion, so that it may be intelligent, it might be worth while to refer to the records to see just what has been done along that line.
The story told by the records seems quite imposing, at any rate.
A resume of the activities of prohibition agents for the first ten months since the Volstead law has been in effect shows:
8456 illicit distilleries seized and destroyed;
9186 stills seized and destroyed;
1182 still worms seized;
136,608 gallons of spirits seized and destroyed;
50,448 fermenters seized and destroyed;
1021 automobiles seized;
20 breweries seized;
24,469 persons arrested;
23,959 persons recommended for prosecution;
Taxes and penalties reported for assessment, $32,450,086;
Taxes and penalties assessed, approximately, $22,000,000.
Looks big—but the United States is a big country.
Commissioner of Internal Revenue William M. Williams says that with better cooperation from state and local officials, which is now being given, another year's record will show greater figures than the records of the year just closed.

Some folks are hoping that if Lenin had a contagious disease Trotsky caught it.

SHUN THE COMMON DRINKING CUP!
There is disease and death in the use of the common drinking cup. The cup which has come from the lips of somebody else may bring the infection of dangerous diseases to you.

That is why the laws of many states, or the orders of city departments of health, forbid the use of the common drinking cup in schools, public buildings, aboard trains, and elsewhere.

Microscopic examination has shown that the edges of cups or tumblers which have been the rounds of the lips of various persons are plastered with a variety of unclean matter which, if you could see it with the naked eye, would make such cups too repulsive to bring to your own lips.
FIRST, the mucus from the mouth has adhered, bringing with it an assortment of scales from the mucous membrane of the mouth, throat and sometimes from the nose.

NEXT, there may be found the germs of pneumonia, those of suppurative which may have come from diseases of the teeth or gums, the germs of tuberculosis or of diphtheria and sometimes of other diseases.

The list of diseases that may be spread by drinking cups is a long one, but in part it includes—

Tuberculosis, the chief among the infectious destroyers;

Syphilis, the loathsome and terrible disease which is much more prevalent than is generally known, and which, aside from the earlier serious troubles, may, and often does, five, ten, or twenty years later, bring on destructive diseases of the arteries, heart, liver or brain, and which does much to fill asylums with the incurably insane;

Diphtheria, scarlet fever and grip, three diseases which are destructive of life and health-shattering for many who survive.

Cerebro-spinal meningitis, and infantile paralysis, two maladies killing many whom they touch and leaving among their surviving victims a train of paralyses, deformities and defects of the special senses and of the mind which are sometimes worse than death.

Shun the common drinking cup!

Maybe Lenin will come along soon with a statement that the rumors of his death are greatly exaggerated.

WHERE ONE LEARNS MUCH

Several guests at a luncheon, years ago, were in heated discussion over a painting that adorned the wall.

Apparently none of them knew its meaning although it represented a scene in the mythology of Greece.

Bored by the conversation, one of them turned to a waiter and insolently demanded to know the picture's meaning.

To his astonishment the waiter gave it immediately.
"In what school have you studied," asked the guest.
"In many schools, sir," replied the humble waiter, "but the school in which I learned most was in the school of adversity. Books only have been my friends."
Ten years later all France rang with the fame of the greatest writer of his age, Jean Jacques Rousseau.

Several persons were killed by eating preserved spinach in a Grand Rapids hospital. Well if they had to eat it they picked a good spot for it.

THE OLD MAN'S COMFORTS
By Robert Southey
"You are old Father William," the young man cried;
"The few locks that are left you are gray;
You are hale, Father William—a hearty old man.
Now tell me the reason, I pray."

"In the days of my youth," Father William replied;
"I remembered that youth would fly fast,
And abused not my health and my vigor at first.
That I might need them at last."

"You are old, Father William," the young man cried;
"And pleasures with youth pass away;
And yet you lament not the days that are gone.
Now tell me the reason, I pray."

"In the days of my youth," Father William replied;
"I remembered that youth could not last;
I thought of the future, whatever I did,
That I never might grieve for the past."

"You are old, Father William," the young man cried;
"And life must be hastening away;
You are cheerful, and love to converse upon death:
Now tell me the reason, I pray."

"I am cheerful, young man," Father William replied;
"Let the cause thy attention engage;
In the days of my youth, I remembered my God,
And He hath not forgotten my age."

TAX SAVING SURE ENOUGH
A million dollars of government extravagance here, a million dollars of government squander there, a million dollars of government waste everywhere, and the public finds itself up to its neck in taxes. Taxes drive up the rents. Rents help to swell all the other costs of living, for every mill and factory, every warehouse and shop must put its taxes and rents into the prices of their goods which the public buys.

When the legislative bill is enacted to consolidate all the State government's departments, bureaus and agencies now duplicating work and expense in assessing, collecting and guarding various taxes, when the new law is in operation and when it is administered on a sound business basis, about a million dollars a year will be saved by the State of New York in the mere handling of the taxes. This will be sure enough tax saving.

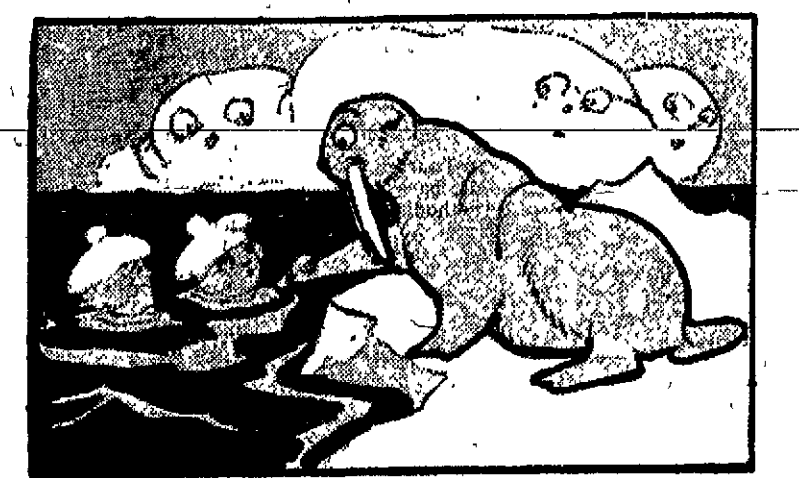

And if a million dollars a year can be saved by proper methods of getting the taxes into the treasury, how many tens of millions can be saved by similarly proper methods of checking the flow of those taxes out of the treasury? Let the economy work at Albany go on.—New York Herald.

COLONEL WATKINSON'S PARTY
As long as Mr. McAdoo and Mr. Bryan feel called on to do something to "regenerate" the Democratic party, there seems to be no reason why any enrolled party member should be diffident about trying his hand at it. When the party member in question is so eminent as Colonel Watkinson the possibility becomes almost an obligation, and in a letter to The World the veteran puts forward his proposals for the repair of American public life. He thinks that "there is nothing in politics now except two empty bottles—both a little dirty—one labeled Democrat and 'Other Republican.'" Whether there be anything symbolic in this picture of present-day politics we do not propose to say. Empty bottles are a prominent feature of every home just now and the interpretation of this phenomenon is purely a matter of temperament. The optimist is encouraged by the fact that he sees bottles; the pessimist notes only that they are empty.—New York Times.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS
By Oliver Roberts Barton.

The Fairy Queen Appears
When the iceberg castle melted, in which Nancy and Nick had been prisoners of the wicked Bobadil Jinn, enough of it remained for the walrus

The walrus reached a broad, strong flapper to the twins now struggling in the water.

to cling to, and he flapped a broad, strong flapper to the twins now struggling in the water. Soon they were beside him and he was telling them all that had happened while they had worn the little Red Slippers of Forgetfulness, that the wicked Jinn had given them. Now the slippers were gone, and they remembered the ordeal on which they had started.
"But how can we ever get to the South Pole, now?" cried Nancy. "The wicked Jinn took away our Magic Green-Wishing-Shoes and our Box of Charms. We cannot find the way without the Map and the Golden Key. They were in the box."
Suddenly the walrus disappeared, and in his place shone a dazzling light. It was so blinding at first that the twins could not see anything at all, but gradually they made out a form in the midst of the golden beams, a form familiar and friendly, and smiling at them kindly.
"The Fairy Queen!" they cried in astonishment.
"Yes, my dears," said she. "If I am not often I can spare the time from my kingdom to help my little friends in person; but you were in such need that I decided to come."
"But where is the walrus?" asked Nick, suddenly missing his clumsy friend.
"I was the walrus," nodded the Fairy Queen.
"But—" said Nancy, in a puzzling voice. "You said that you were hungry and asked if we were tender. We thought you were going to eat us."
The Fairy Queen laughed. "I had to do that to fool the wicked Jinn. I wanted him to believe that I was your enemy, or he would never have allowed me to stay on his iceberg. But now we must talk about your errand."

AT THE MOVIES

At the Eltinge Theatre
In "The Misleading Lady," which comes as the feature attraction at the Bismarck theatre, for a run of two days, beginning Wednesday, local motion picture patrons will be treated to a screen version of the notable play by Charles Goddard and Paul Dickey, which enjoyed such a triumphant success on the New York stage.
More than that they will see Jett Lytell, that versatile and gifted young actor who has won an undisputed niche in screendom. He has the daring role of Jack Craigan, the confirmed woman hater whose first appearance in effete New York after a stay in South Africa brings with it complete surrender to beautiful Helen Steele. Only after he has made his avowed proposal to prove her fitness for a leading part at a millionaire's "little theatre," infuriated by such treatment, Craigan abducts her to his hunting lodge and proceeds to a brusque wooing, which begins with the lady chained, and ends in a breathless episode in which he wins against the claims of Helen's fiancee.
The story, with its quick tempo and its delicious sparkling humor, which critics say is conveyed on the screen far more effectively than it was on the footlights, is a Metro special production, directed by George Irving, under the personal supervision of Maxwell Karger. Lois Zellner adapted the play. Arthur Martinelli was the cameraman and Lester J. Varnhagen designed the special art interiors.

PEOPLE'S FORUM
WATER COSTS EXPLAINED.
Editor's note: The Tribune in a recent issue published a clipping on the Fargo water costs in which there was clearly a typographical error in the newspaper originally printing the article and from which it was clipped.
The Tribune's attention was called to the error and in order not to do an injustice to the Fargo costs a letter was addressed to Robert J. Jacobsen, city engineer of Fargo, who responded as follows:
Fargo, February 4, 1921.
Editor, Bismarck Tribune.
Bismarck: North Dakota.
Dear Sir:—
I want to thank you for your letter of February 2, enclosing a clipping on water costs in the city of Fargo, and asking me to make corrections.
The figures given are in cents per 1,000 gallons and the total cost is 17.90 cents per 1,000 gallons of water pumped to the city. The total number of gallons of water used for December, 1920, in the city should read "65,780,945".
Extensions by Special Assessments.
In answer to your questions, I can state that the water department does not pay the original cost of extensions to the distribution system or the cost of hydrants. Water mains and hydrants are paid for by special assessment on abutting property. Our present distribution system represents a total original cost of over $450,000.00. This item does not enter in when the cost of water is computed. The cost of maintenance and operation of water mains and hydrants is paid for by the water department. The city pays, from general taxation, to the water department, a hydrant rental to cover use of water from hydrants for fire, street sprinkling, flushing sewers and public purposes. This year the sum of $19,272.00 is paid to the water department for hydrant rental. This item is the only item raised by general taxation.
20 Percent by General Taxation.
One reason why our costs for furnishing water to the city are so low is because they are based upon the value of the water-works plant alone. A privately owned plant would necessarily have to base its costs upon the value of the distribution system in addition to that of the water works plant.
I would say that approximately 80 percent of the cost of furnishing water under our present method is borne by revenue from water consumers while approximately 20 percent is borne by general taxation. If our water department was a privately owned utility and all charges had to be absorbed from the income, a flat meter-rate of about forty cents per 1,000 gallons would have to be established. Our present meter rate is fifteen cents per 1,000 gallons with a semi-annual advance charge of from $1.20 for the smallest domestic meter to $23.00 for the largest commercial meter.
If this is not clear, I shall be pleased to give you such further information as you may desire. Thanking you for your interest and courtesy in this matter and trusting you will correct the article you published.
I am,
Yours very truly,
ROBERT J. JACOBSEN,
City Engineer.

STANFORD WHITE AND MADISON SQUARE GARDEN

Athletes to Invade Old Haunts of Stanford White

(N. E. A. Staff Special.)

New York, Feb. 5.—Shade of Stanford White! Intruders are coming to his old haunts—the roof of historic Madison Square Garden.

New York's lovers of prize fights and athletics will soon train there. The old garden is undergoing a big change.

In a short time it will house the biggest gymnasium in the world. A tennis court is being built on the spot where Stanford White, famed architect who planned the garden, was killed by Harry Thaw, 15 years ago, for attentions to Evelyn Nesbit Thaw.

Health Restorer. It's high up on the roof with New York's skyline of steel towers stretching away to all four sides.

In future Gotham's tired business men will seek to get back their health there.

The big gym will be under the direction of "Philadelphia Jack" O'Brien. He calls it his "health restoring plant."

It will contain all sorts of athletic equipment. Everything will be on a large scale.

Golf and Tennis. Besides a six-lap mile running track there will be tennis courts and a golf course on the roof.

A swimming pool 285 by 120 feet will be built in the amphitheater where the kings of the fight ring battled in the years gone by.

The high tower where White once had his quarters is being stripped of its trappings.

Secret Passages. Among findings that will be used again is an old carved tub they call it "Evelyn's bath tub."

Workmen find the old tower is now encircled with a net work of hidden stairways and secret panels.

These secret passages were the invention of White himself, who after building the garden installed himself way up in the towered retreat.

The roof gym is 100 feet above the street.

It's New York's first outdoor gym. Scenes of midnight revels which destroyed health will be turned into a place that will restore health.

It's the vogue for New York's feminine elite to be athletic now.

Prunes are served to the inmates of Sing Sing prison on an average of twelve a week and 10,000 are used for one meal.

PHANTOM HERD IS FOUND

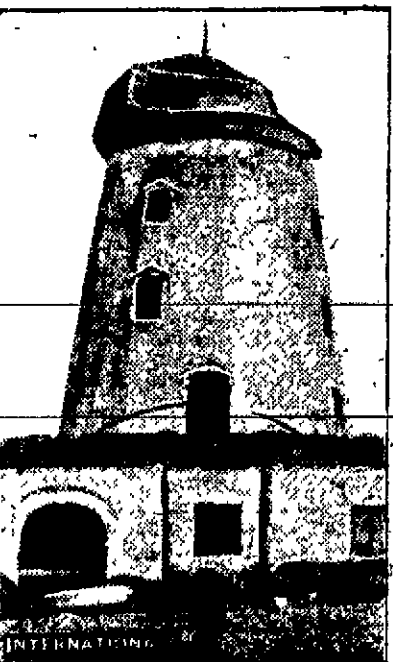

Traditions About Wild Buffalo in Northern Canada Proved to Be True.

Edmonton, Canada.—The phantom herd of the North has been found. For years a tradition of a great herd of buffalo somewhere in the Mackenzie river basin has lingered among the fur posts. Indians told of sighting it blackening the wild pastures of remote valleys. No white men had seen it. But trappers had chanced upon its trampled trails and ten years ago two mighty bulls that had straggled far from their fellows were killed.

F. H. Kitto, engineer of the natural resources branch of the Department of the Interior, who has returned from five months of explorations in the Mackenzie country, reports that he saw the herd, and estimates it at 1,000 head. He received reports, he says, from Indians that another herd equally as large exists farther north.

Canada has the largest bison herd in the world in the National park at Wainwright. January 1 it numbered 4,335. With the exception of 90 animals that still live in untamed freedom in the northern fastnesses of Yellowstone park the Mackenzie river herds are the only wild buffalo left on the continent.

BELGIAN FLOUR MILL

INTERNATIONAL

Americans who are used to having their bread left at the door each morning, or, if they are still old-fashioned enough to bake their own loaves, can at a moment's notice secure any amount of flour they desire at the corner grocery, do not realize that in some parts of the world flour is still a difficult article to secure at a moment's notice and that primitive methods are still used in grinding it.

The Belgian flour mill shown in the picture has been in service since 1735.

GLOW OF CINDER PATH CALLS EBY

EARL EBY

Philadelphia—Earl Eby is coming back to the cinder path.

The Penn half-miler—premier runner of the country—plans to quit business and re-enter school.

Eby was the best half-miler in the country when he was skimming the cinders a year ago at Penn.

He was a member of the U. S. Olympic team. He pulled a tendon while abroad and did not measure up to his high standard. Returning home he went into business.

It is believed that Eby will spend part of his time in assisting Coach Lawson Robertson this spring.

Robertson, coach of Penn athletes for many years, isn't entirely satisfied with his present berth. He lives in Brooklyn. It's possible he'll shift to some school nearer New York next year.

TIME CLOCKS BEGIN TO RING

By Albert Apple

Unemployment is decreasing and business conditions are improving is the core of the weekly review by R. G. Dun & Co. which ferrets out credit information for business men.

In Detroit 33,000 automobile workers again are ringing in the time clock. Trumbull Steel Co. which was on half time for several months reports its 34 mills running full-blast.

Judge Gar / sees "continued, if slow, improvement in the comparatively near future."

Guaranty Trust Co. of New York queries big business men all over the country and finds an "opinion that the United States has now definitely entered upon its return to normal conditions."

A building boom, which will bring a rush of work to the railroads, is predicted by Samuel W. Vauclain, president of Baldwin Locomotive Works. Dow Service says spring building will start 35 per cent normal and reach 60 per cent in May or June.

Export Trade Livens

Our exports are being stimulated by continued rise in foreign exchange.

In last few days the value of Canadian dollar in American money passed 90 cents and British exchange rose to 33 cents higher than a year ago.

Allies have definitely fixed amount of German indemnity. This, treasury officials say, will stabilize conditions throughout the world and increase purchasing power of countries we sell to.

Federal Reserve Board has approved articles of incorporation of the $100,000,000 organization that will finance exports under the Edge act.

What Money's Doing

Pennsylvania Railroad sells $60,000,000 of gold bonds. Gobbled quickly. Means other heavy rail financing in near future. Big buying by railroads "could recuperate steel industry."

Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia queries 100 big banks. Easier money and credit within next six months are predicted by it.

Liberty Bonds in January advanced average of three points, 25 leading industrial stocks climbed from average of 88.40 to 95 and 25 leading railroads from 66.48 to 67.48.

Farmers' Outlook Better

Grain is moving to market at smarter clip than since October. As farmers sell, their buying power returns. Will stimulate retail and mail order sales.

Wheat exports from the United States and Canada last week in January totaled 8,534,279 bushels against 2,192,042 bushels same week a year ago.

NAVY'S SMALLEST - This is the Hornet, the smallest fighting ship in the U. S. navy. It's a torpedo boat. Two men operate it, a captain and an engineer. It is with the fleet at winter maneuvers in Panama waters, and if it proves its value the navy will get more.

INCREASE OF DRAFT HORSES

Larger Number on Farms Shows How Agricultural and Transportation Needs Are Growing.

The United States census for 1910 revealed 19,833,000 horses and 4,210,000 mules on farms. The Department of Agriculture estimate for January 1, 1920, shows 21,109,000 horses and 4,895,000 mules on farms, or an increase of 1,276,000 horses and 785,000 mules in the last decade. Besides this we exported, during the nine years ending June 30, 1919, 1,140,763 horses and 376,836 mules. The rise in prices for good draft horses and mules, in spite of the existence of more than 21,000,000 horses and almost 5,000,000 mules on farms, indicates how agricultural and transportation needs are growing.

INDEPENDENT THOUGHT IS IMPOSSIBLE

You frequently hear it said in some such way as this:
